Palace warns schools against 'hidden fees'

By Marisa Bernardino and Ben S. Quinsaat

MANILA—The Department of Education (DepEd) yesterday warned school administrators against imposing "hidden fees" to be paid by parents of their children attending public schools.

DepEd Secretary Armin A. Luistro said that the Department of Education is committed to ensuring that all children have access to quality education without any financial burden.

"We are aware that some schools are imposing hidden fees, such as for uniforms, books, and other school supplies, which are not included in the official fee schedule," Luistro said.

He added that the Department of Education is taking steps to ensure that all schools are following the official fee schedule and that parents are not overburdened with extra payments.

Luistro said that the Department of Education is also working to ensure that all schools are providing quality education and that all children are receiving a fair and equitable education.

Customs seizes P130-M smuggled sugar in Bulacan

By Ben S. Quinsaat

MANILA—Customs officials yesterday seized 130 metric tons of smuggled sugar in Bulacan, worth an estimated P130 million.

The sugar was found in 130 sacks, each weighing one metric ton, and was being transported by a private trucking company.

Customs officials said that the sugar was smuggled from the United States and was being sold in the Philippines at a price significantly lower than the market rate.

The sugar was found in a warehouse in Bulacan, and the trucking company was also seized with the sugar.

There will be many, but there will also be those who believe that the future of the community is in the hands of a few. This is a dangerous belief, for it is the responsibility of all of us to ensure that the future of the community is in the hands of the people.

There is a growing trend in the use of self-administered questionnaires, which are being used in a variety of ways. They are being used to collect data on a wide range of topics, including health, education, and social attitudes. They are also being used to monitor the effectiveness of interventions and to evaluate the impact of programs. The use of self-administered questionnaires is becoming increasingly common, and it is likely to continue to grow in the future.

Dirk caps rally with winning layup

Dirk Nowitzki capped off a comeback rally with a winning layup in the final seconds of the game, leading the Dallas Mavericks to a 108-106 victory over the San Antonio Spurs.

The Mavericks, who were down by 10 points in the fourth quarter, rallied behind Nowitzki's clutch performance. Nowitzki finished the game with 30 points, 10 rebounds, and a game-winning layup with 1.3 seconds left.

The Spurs, led by Tim Duncan, fought hard but couldn't overcome the Mavericks' late surge. The game was a high-scoring affair, with both teams combining for over 200 points.

The Mavericks' victory gives them a 2-1 lead in the Western Conference playoffs. The Spurs will have to regroup for their next game.

House sets votes on resolutions critical of US Libyan operations

WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP) — The U.S. House of Representatives on Tuesday set the stage for a vote on resolutions critical of U.S. operations in Libya, as the debate over the conflict in the North African country continued.

The House voted 268-167 on a resolution that would require the Obama administration to report to Congress on the progress of U.S. operations in Libya and on the impact of the conflict on the civilian population.

The resolution also calls for the U.S. to withdraw its forces from Libya and to seek a negotiated settlement to the conflict.

The vote came as the U.S. military continued its operations in Libya, with the Obama administration claiming that the operations were necessary to protect U.S. interests and to prevent the spread of terrorism.

The House vote was a significant development in the debate over U.S. involvement in Libya, as it would represent a strong statement of opposition to the current U.S. policy in the country.

The Senate is also expected to vote on similar resolutions in the coming days.

The conflict in Libya has been ongoing since the overthrow of Muammar Gaddafi in 2011, and it has resulted in the deaths of thousands of people and the displacement of millions more.

The U.S. has been involved in the conflict since 2011, when it led a coalition of international forces in an effort to overthrow Gaddafi. The U.S. has since continued its operations in Libya, with the Obama administration claiming that the operations are necessary to protect U.S. interests and to prevent the spread of terrorism.

This image shows a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf of a book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some minor discoloration and faint smudges, characteristic of old paper. The left edge of the page is bound, showing the stitching and the inner cover material. There is no text or other markings on the page.

US employment seen held back by weak economy

WASHINGTON, June 6 (AP) — Economists say the U.S. economy is still too weak to create jobs at a fast enough pace to keep up with the growing workforce. The latest report from the Bureau of Economic Analysis shows that the economy added 147,000 jobs in May, but that the number of people looking for work also rose by 147,000. The unemployment rate remained at 7.6 percent. Economists say the economy is still too weak to create jobs at a fast enough pace to keep up with the growing workforce. EU-US work on financial reforms

BRUSSELS, June 6 (AP) — The European Union and the United States are working together to strengthen financial reforms. The two sides are discussing ways to improve the stability of the global financial system and to prevent a recurrence of the 2008 crisis. The EU and US are working on a number of key areas, including strengthening the regulatory framework for banks and financial institutions, improving the resolution of failing banks, and enhancing the transparency of financial markets.

The diagram illustrates a 2D hexagonal lattice structure. It consists of a grid of hexagonal cells. A central cell is highlighted in a darker shade. The lattice is labeled with 'a' for the lattice constant and 'b' for the bond length. The diagram shows the arrangement of atoms in a 2D hexagonal lattice.

Figure 1: Schematic diagram of the microfluidic device. The device consists of a central channel (Inlet) and a network of microchannels (Outlet) connected by a central channel. The channel is filled with fluid (Fluid) and the device is made of PDMS (Polydimethylsiloxane).
